Abstract:

Sociological study carried out in the second half of the 1990s seeking to identify the causes of the uncontrolled degradation of language teaching in the French-Canadian community of the province of Quebec, Canada, that allowed identifying its origins in a major reform of the Quebec education system that was implemented in the mid-1960s.

This sociological study, which served as a reference framework for the "General Neurolinguistics" project, is summarized in the Prologue of the final monograph of this project, entitled

"General Neurolinguistics",
